

EVENTCONFIRMED

Scope: These rules shall apply to this contract.

Underlying: The Underlying for this Contract is whether <event claim> is reported as confirmed or verified by a Source Agency after Issuance and before <date>. Revisions to the Underlying made after Expiration will not be accounted for in determining the Expiration Value.

Source Agency: The Source Agencies are, in hierarchical order: The New York Times, the Associated Press, Bloomberg News, Reuters, Axios, Politico, Semafor, The Information, The Washington Post, The Wall Street Journal, ABC, CBS, CNN, Fox News, MSNBC, and NBC.

Type: The type of Contract is an Event Contract.

Issuance: After the initial Contract, Contract iterations will be listed on an as-needed basis at the discretion of the Exchange and corresponding to the risk management needs of Members.

<event claim>: <event claim> refers to the specific factual assertion, incident, or occurrence specified by the Exchange. This includes the exact details, participants, timing, and circumstances that must be confirmed through journalistic reporting.

<date>: <date> refers to a calendar date specified by the Exchange. The Exchange may list iterations of the Contract corresponding to variations of <date>.

Payout Criterion: The Payout Criterion for the Contract encompasses the Expiration Values that <event claim> has been reported as confirmed, verified, or established as factual by at least one Source Agency after Issuance and before <date>.

News confirmation is defined as a published article, broadcast segment, or official news report by a Source Agency, that A) explicitly states <event claim> occurred, is true, or has been verified, B) based on journalistic investigation, sources, or evidence, and C) presented as factual reporting rather than speculation, rumor, or unverified allegation.

The following constitute confirmations that trigger the Payout Criterion:

- News articles stating "<event claim> occurred" or "sources confirm <event claim>"
- Investigative reports concluding <event claim> is factually accurate
- News reports citing official records, documents, or evidence supporting <event claim>
- Broadcast segments where reporters or anchors present <event claim> as verified fact
- Breaking news reports confirming <event claim> through journalistic investigation

The following do NOT constitute confirmations:

- Reports that merely quote allegations or rumors without verification
- Opinion pieces, editorials, or commentary that speculate about <event claim>
- Reports using qualifying language like "allegedly," "reportedly," or "unconfirmed reports suggest"
- Social media posts, even from verified news organization accounts, unless linking to full published reports
- Reports that explicitly label <event claim> as unverified, disputed, or under investigation
- Reports that <event claim> is "partially true" or "true in some respects"
- Satirical or entertainment content, even from news organizations
- Reports that cite only anonymous sources without corroborating evidence

- Articles that discuss <event claim> as a possibility rather than established fact

Examples that would resolve the market to Yes:

- The New York Times publishes: "Investigation confirms [event claim]"
- Reuters reports: "Military officials verify [event claim]"
- The Washington Post states: "Documents obtained by this newspaper establish that [event claim] occurred"
- CNN broadcasts: "Sources have confirmed to CNN that [event claim] is accurate"
- Associated Press reports: "Records show [event claim] took place as described"

Examples that would NOT resolve the market to Yes:

- Reports stating: "Allegations surface that [event claim] occurred"
- Articles with headlines: "Did [event claim] really happen?" without definitive conclusion
- Reports saying: "Unconfirmed reports suggest [event claim]"
- Opinion pieces arguing: "Evidence suggests [event claim] might be true"
- Articles quoting sources who "claim" or "allege" without independent verification

Minimum Tick: The Minimum Tick size for the Contract shall be $0.01.

Position Accountability Level: The Position Accountability Level for the Contract shall be $25,000 per strike, per Member.

Last Trading Date: The Last Trading Date of the Contract will be the day prior to <date>. The Last Trading Time will be 11:59 PM ET.

Settlement Date: The Settlement Date of the Contract shall be no later than the day after the Expiration Date, unless the Market Outcome is under review pursuant to Rule 7.1.

Expiration Date: The latest Expiration Date of the Contract shall be one week after <date>. If an event described in the Payout Criterion occurs, expiration will be moved to an earlier date and time in accordance with Rule 7.2.

Expiration Time: The Expiration time of the Contract shall be 10:00 AM ET.

Settlement Value: The Settlement Value for this Contract is $1.00.

Expiration Value: The Expiration Value is the value of the Underlying as documented by the Source Agency on the Expiration Date at the Expiration time.

Contingencies: Before Settlement, Kalshi may, at its sole discretion, initiate the Market Outcome Review Process pursuant to Rule 6.3(d) of the Rulebook. If an Expiration Value cannot be determined on the Expiration Date, Kalshi has the right to determine payouts pursuant to Rule 6.3(b) in the Rulebook.
